

TURKS LOSE
20 SOLDIERS
IN BATTLE

Three Battalions Attack 1000 Macedonian Insurgents in the Region of Monastir and Are Defeated After a Six-Hours' Engagement.

THE RUSSIAN BLACK SEA
FLEET NEARS TURKISH COAST.

This Squadron Will Enforce the Czar's Demand That the Sultan Make Full Reparation for the Murder of a Russian Consul.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 18.—A battle is reported to have occurred in the neighborhood of Monastir. Three Turkish battalions attacked a thousand insurgents, and after six hours the Turks were repulsed with the loss of 20 men killed and wounded. The insurgent loss is not given.

Reports received here from Constantinople and believed to be authentic, confirm the previous statements to the effect that when the Turks captured Krushovo they slaughtered the entire Christian population without exception, and that among those killed was the consul of the government tobacco establishments, which were under European control, as the proceeds from these establishments were assigned to the service of the Turkish debt.

RUSSIAN SQUADRON
NEAR TURKISH COAST.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 18.—The Russian squadron of warships which left Sebastopol yesterday is expected to arrive off the Turkish coast tomorrow to support the demands made on Turkey by Russia in connection with the assassination of the Russian consul at Monastir.

The Russian fleet is about to make a naval demonstration in Turkish waters, the public being entirely ignorant of Russian movements.

The notification received here of the sailing of the Russian fleet was a surprise to the Turkish government, which had pretended to believe that the Russian fleet was in the Mediterranean. The most recent advice received here from Monastir was forwarded Sunday night and announced that the fighting between the insurgents and Turkish troops in the vicinity of Krushovo continued and that many refugees from neighboring villages had congregated at Monastir. Several villages inhabited by Greeks, it was said, had been set on fire by the insurgents.

According to advices received at one of the foreign embassies at Constantinople, no less than 800 Mussulmans have been massacred throughout the district of Monastir by insurgents, whose movements continue to gain ground.

Enver Rashed Pasha, who is nominally in command of the Turkish troops operating in the Monastir district, is seriously hampered by the fact that the instructions he receives from here are constantly changing and that when a movement is undertaken a counter-order from the Turkish commissariat department is in a wretched condition. The troops at the front, it is said, have not been served with rations of meat for six weeks.

The insurgents in the village of Adrianople also active. One band recently captured a Turkish train, and Turkish soldiers near Haskioi, close to the Bulgarian frontier.

Twenty-four battalions of reserves in the village of Anatolia have been summoned to the coast.

JOY, OH JOY, SUCH WEATHER

Fair Skies and a Continuation of the Summer Resort Temperature Are Assured.

The Weather Bird has a petition to present to Congress or some other body that is entitled to change names. He wants folks to quit calling him August 18.

He desires that they be termed days of the gods. He adds that it means nothing except an extra letter and a little shifting to accomplish the act.

As witness to the necessary change he cites the following pronouncement of the Weather Man: "Fair tonight and Wednesday. Stationary temperature."

He wants to know what there is doggy about that. The depression that was over Dakota yesterday has drifted swiftly to the upper lakes, causing thunder showers in the district over which it traveled.

Stationary temperature prevails generally. There is some warmer weather in the central Rocky mountains, the lower Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys.

The temperature here in St. Louis was 86 at 6 o'clock this morning. At noon it was 80 with little abatement to ascend.

WHISKY DROPS FIVE CENTS.

Evidences of Trouble Among the Distilling Interests.

PEORIA, Aug. 18.—Trouble is evidently brewing between the independent and trust distillers. For this morning the whisky quotation was dropped from $1.29 to the basis for finished goods, to $1.24, a decline of 5 cents per gallon.

The trust has been maintaining a fictitious quotation for some days past and has been selling goods at the reduced figure. They called a meeting of the quotation committee of the board of trade, as a result of which the reduced quotation was sent out today. This is the second drop in prices in the past two weeks.

RESULTS AT SARATOGA.

First race—Flying Ship, first; Payne, second; Claude, third.

Second race—The Regent, first; Beverly, second; Scoffer, third.

Third race—Palette first, For Luck second, Minnie third.

YOUNG STRANGER WHO
DRANK FATAL DRAUGHT.YOUNG MAN ENDS
LIFE BY POISON

Fatal Strychnine Taken On a Speeding Train Baffles All Efforts of the Physicians.

HAD TWELVE KINDS OF POISON

All Marks of Identification Are Destroyed and the Death is Wrapped in Deep Mystery.

DESCRIPTION OF UNIDENTIFIED MAN.

Height, 5 feet 8 inches.
Weight, 145 pounds.
Age, about 25 years.
Hair, dark brown; eyes, light blue; complexion, dark; nose, straight; features, regular; lips, full. Old, white scar over right eye. Wore beard of four or five days' growth. Clothes were of dark slate color with fine white stripe, well worn and containing no name of maker. Cheap gingham shirt had no laundry mark. Collar, rubber, size 14 1/2.

Hat of light, braided straw, tall crown with a light crease along the top and wide brim. Mark in crown, "Wallerstein's, Paducah, Ky." Size 7.

Only articles on person were prescription blank of Dr. A. A. Bendurat, Cairo, Ill., sack of tobacco and package of cigarette papers. "J. E. Bennett, Lutesville, Mo." is written on the prescription blank. The word Lutesville was written twice, first spelled "Lootsville" and then scratched out and spelled properly.

A valise contained bottles of poison with labels scratched off, except "Paducah, Ky., salt, a cake of soap bearing label of Nelson-Seale drug store, Paducah, Ky.

Strychnine drunk on a Burlington train between Chicago and St. Louis, caused the death of an unidentified man at the City Hospital at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The poison was taken Monday night as the train neared St. Louis and the man was unconscious when removed to the hospital. He was revived there and talked to the attendants, refusing to give his name and saying: "I was tired of living. It is my affair and not the public's."

The chief clerk to his identity is furnished by the name Paducah, Ky., which is on the bottle he carried in a valise, on the hat he wore and on a cake of soap also in the valise.

Most of the bottles contained poison. They were carefully arranged in the valise and the labels were removed except the part containing "Paducah, Ky."

There was one bottle of carbolic acid, one of laudanum, one of quinine, one of powdered morphine, one of strychnine, one of soda-min tablets and one of empty capsules. The only other articles in the valise was a cake of soap.

When a few miles from St. Louis he walked into the smoking room at the end of the car. A few minutes later he staggered back through the aisle and, as he reached his seat, he fell to the floor.

A physician on board the train, assisted by the train conductor, administered first aid to the man, but he died before the train reached St. Louis. An ambulance was called and the man was taken to the hospital. He was revived there and talked to the attendants, refusing to give his name and saying: "I was tired of living. It is my affair and not the public's."

WAY NOW CLEAR FOR MUNICIPAL GARBAGE PLANT

Council Is Expected to Pass at This Afternoon's Session the Bill Calling for Committee to Investigate the Plans in Vogue in Other Cities.

MAJORITY OF THIS BODY
FAVORS MUNICIPAL WORKS.

Change, if Made, Would Not Effect the Hauling of Refuse, but Only Its Reduction—Hauling Contract Lasts Five Years.

At the meeting of the City Council Tuesday afternoon it is expected that the bill for a commission to thoroughly investigate the question of establishing a municipal garbage plant will be passed as amended by the House.

It is thought that such action will be a complete surprise to the House and Col. Ed Butler, as the belief is general that the amendments were appended for the especial purpose of killing the bill.

The measure was recommended by Mayor Wells some weeks ago in a message calling attention to the fact that the contract for the reduction of the city's garbage would expire in November, 1934.

It was at first thought that the friends of the measure would have to go through the tedious process of trying to put another bill through in the event that the House refused to rescind its amendments; but within the past few days it has been discovered that there would probably be enough friends of the plan as proposed by the mayor to handle the committee, and further the objects sought.

There are three members of the Council sympathetic—Sheehan, Gardner and Spieglehalter; five on the House committee—O'Brien, Luckland, Widener, Williams and Hammerstein; six members of the Board of Public Improvements and Health Commissioner Simon, a total of 15.

It is believed that all the members of the Board of Public Improvements, Dr. Simon and at least one member of the two sanitary committees, will be found to favor the plan as proposed by the mayor. As the plan as proposed by the mayor, that would be a majority of the enlarged committee, and would have control of it and its expenditure of the fund, it is believed that the best thing to do would be to accept the House's amendments, put the bill through the Council and get the committee into existence.

The question under consideration is the plant only. The contract for hauling garbage does not expire until 1934, and the board of health will have to contend with that matter for four years more.

GARBAGE CO. BREAKS
ITS OWN AGREEMENT

Wholesale complaints of garbage that has not been collected for weeks show that the Excelsior Hauling Co. is not complying with its alleged "understanding" to collect all kinds of refuse from all kinds of receptacles three times a week.

This "understanding," it alleges, was made with the mayor and city council to take the place of the contract which requires a daily collection from certain specified kinds of receptacles.

Complaints reached Chief of Police Kelly Tuesday morning from scores of residences on Chouteau avenue, Papin street, Singleton street and Gratiot street, between Fourteenth and Eighteenth streets, who say that the garbage has not been collected in that neighborhood for weeks.

Chief Kelly says they will be at once turned over to the board of health.

It was stated at St. Mary's Infirmary Tuesday morning that garbage had been uncollected there for 18 days, causing a great deal of trouble. The garbage wagon usually came there, it was said, on Sunday morning and several times recently the driver had taken only a few shovelfuls of garbage, leaving the greater part of the accumulation there because his wagon was too full to carry it.

The complaints from residents were not in petition form, but were made to the patrolmen on the beats by individuals. The officers say they received scores of complaints daily. They told the driver for the Excelsior company's garbage wagons, but the drivers paid no attention.

In the reports from patrolmen Tuesday morning, Chief Kelly received lists of the complainants.

They say the condition is dangerous to their health and the stench makes the neighborhood almost uninhabitable. Persons passing through the district on street cars have also complained of the odor.

When the mayor returns.

THE BARTENDER'S CHANCE IS VERY SLIM,
THOUGH ROBBERS MAKE IT WARM FOR HIM

Interior of an Up-to-Date St. Louis Saloon Ice Box.

Pity the poor bartender! He has no place to fly when robbers come around and want to shoot him in the eye. They lock him in the ice-box. For hours there to stay. Before he has a chance to duck—that is, to "fade away."

He'll have to guard against those who're looking for his pit. Since robbers that infest the town All have such strenuous ways, Or else his mortal chances For safety will be slim. Although the robber tries to make It hot enough for him.

TWO MYSTERIES
RESULTED IN NONE

Box of Fine Clothes Intended for Miss Dolly Douglass Was Left at the Wrong House.

POLICE THOUGHT IT ROBBERY

Presents Were Taken to Station and Neighborhood Talk at Last Straightened Out Dilemma.

GIFT BOX THAT CAUSED THE DUAL MYSTERY.

1 white embroidered petticoat.
1 pink lawn dress, cream lace overdress.
1 hide throw vest.
1 piece of silk.
1 be silk ribbon.
2 satin handbags.
1 ladies' leather hand satchel.
1 silver mug, gold lined.

The carelessness with which Frank Cook executed an errand for his friend, Mrs. Marie Fleming Everett Brown, gave the police of the Tenth district a one-day mystery. To the police, the finding of a box of women's wearing apparel in the doorway of J. J. Suttell's flat at 4224 Easton avenue was a clue to another mysterious West End robbery.

The end of the mystery came when Dainty Dolly Douglass, who ran away to escape marrying Leonard Sargent of Indianapolis established that the clothing was intended for her, being the gift of Marie Fleming Everett Brown, who ran away to marry the man of her choice, George Harry Brown of Chicago.

When the large box of elegant clothing was carried to the police station, Central office was communicated with, and every detail of the mystery was reported to the police.

Two roll-calls went by and the location of the robbery had not been established.

When Mrs. Brown, formerly Miss Everett, the address, living at 4322 Page boulevard, called on her friend, Mrs. Douglass, at 4224 Easton avenue, Mrs. Brown asked how she liked the clothing she had sent her.

Mrs. Brown told Miss Douglass that she had sent the clothing Sunday night by Frank Cook, a friend who was coming past the Douglass home.

Miss Douglass questioned all her neighbors, but she did not ask Suttell because he was her husband's friend. She thought it necessary to tell his family of the find.

But now will spread. Neighbors talked about the clothing and the other neighbors talked about the mystery of the find. The result of the investigation was that the clothing was intended for her, being the gift of Marie Fleming Everett Brown, who ran away to marry the man of her choice, George Harry Brown of Chicago.

ST. LOUIS TAILORS SAY THEY HAVE
TRADE CORNERED AND FEAR NO TRUST

Men of World's Fair City, They Say, Are Fastidious and Conservative and Will Pay Their Own Tailor $50 Even Though They See the Same Thing for $30 Elsewhere.

St. Louis tailors do not seem at all worried over the proposed tailoring trust reported to be in process of organization in New York. None of them have expressed a fear that such a trust would cut out their income to any great extent and some go so far as to say that such a trust will meet with a bad setback when St. Louis is made one of their operating stations.

All of the tailors who had any opinion on the subject had strong views on the conservative feeling of St. Louisians, and the fact that men who have their clothes made to their satisfaction and at any one establishment are loath to make a change.

Many called to mind the fate of several attempts to corner the clothing trade and showed that such a project as that of the United Tailors of New York was impracticable.

John H. McCarthy had heard of the project through the newspapers and was interested to know what the trust proposed to do. He said: "Syndicating the merchant tailoring business is to my mind an impossibility, especially in this city, where the men are so fastidious and conservative. They will pay their own tailor $50 even though they see the same thing for $30 elsewhere."

There is nothing new in this plan, said O. C. McKnight. A firm tried it in St. Louis and withdrew after one year. They made their own cloth and advertised extensively, yet they did not make a go of it in this city. In Chicago they sold $20.00 worth of clothes a week, where they could not sell $50 worth here.

The class of men that wear good clothes in St. Louis are few and far between. When they are once satisfied they do not change. As there is no way in which individuals can be induced to change, the schools for tailors, they cannot create men who are adapted specially to this business.

MR. MICHAEL IS

BEGINS TOMORROW

Business Men's League Committee Organize to Push Freight Investigation.

Elias Michael, secretary of the Rice-Six Dry Goods Co., was chosen chairman of the Business Men's League committee to investigate freight congestion at a meeting of the committee Tuesday morning.

Mr. Michael was authorized to appoint an executive committee of five or seven members which shall be the working committee of the organization. He will announce the committee some time this week.

It is the intention of this committee to make the investigation of freight congestion in the St. Louis terminals and report to the whole committee, which will then consider the question of a proper solution of the problem.

The meeting of the committee was held in the St. Louis Mercantile Club at 11 o'clock. The session lasted only half an hour. Jonathan Frank, St. Louis, was chosen chairman of the committee with power to choose an executive committee which would have on the other cases is not known.

It is also said that his attorneys want to secure the evidence of Walter Aycock, formerly of Lebanon, Mo., now living in St. Louis. Aycock was a commission man at Lebanon. The character of the testimony which the defense expects to get from him is not known.

Caught as He Was Leaving.

East St. Louis police arrested Philip Landau of 215 Franklin avenue as he was being taken to a train. He is charged with having stolen a horse and wagon belonging to his employer, Leo Leeb, a dairyman of 1201 Ohio avenue.

ROBBER HAS DEPOSIT BOX
FOR PLUNDER

Harry Muzzer, Westmoreland Place Burglar, Is Accredited With Ingenuity for Protection Never Displayed by Any Other Housebreaker.

HE AND HIS "PAL" KEEP
"STUFF" IN SAFETY VAULT.

Though Captured With Plunder From the Allan T. West Residence, the Young Prisoner Denies Having Been "In the Job."

Harry Muzzer, alias Steven J. Lawler, is, so far as the St. Louis police know, the first burglar to employ the modern convenience of a safety deposit vault as a storage place for his stolen goods.

Muzzer started Chief Desmond Tuesday morning by saying he and his "pal" had rented a vault in a downtown banking house, and had put their plunder in it. He said he had one key to the box and his "pal" had the other.

Muzzer made this admission while he was being "waxed" by the chief in an effort to make him confess to knowledge of the robbery of the West home in Westmoreland place last Wednesday. Allan T. West was in the office at the time. He was much surprised as was Desmond.

Muzzer turned over to the chief the key of box 62 in the Missouri Trust Co.'s vaults. The box was searched and found empty.

Muzzer, who was arrested at Thirteenth and Linden streets Monday while he was carrying a bundle of clothing and silverware stolen from the West home, would not admit Tuesday morning that he had entered the house or taken any part in the burglary. When it was found that a pawn ticket which had been taken from him called for a silver pin tray belonging to Mrs. Carroll West, he weakened somewhat, but stuck to his story that he was not one of the burglars.

"How did you get hold of this pin tray and the things that were in that bundle they asked Desmond.

"Well, my pal may have been in on the job and I may have pawned or sold some of the stuff, but I didn't know where it came from," replied the prisoner.

Muzzer said, when arrested, that he was from Cincinnati. Tuesday morning he said he was from Chicago. Desmond is becoming more and more convinced that he has a criminal record, although quite sure that this is his first visit to St. Louis.

All the detectives have looked him over, but none of them recognize him. His photograph and description have been sent to the police bureau of identification and inquiries have also been made of the police at Cincinnati and Chicago.

Muzzer says he and his partner have been following circus trains which just crossed over from Illinois into Missouri. He says they left the circus at Carlinville, Ill., and came to St. Louis. He says they brought with them a considerable quantity of "stuff" but does not say what it was. He says it was a "stuff" that they had just put in the safe and pawned.

Muzzer will not admit that his partner had any part in the West robbery. Chief Desmond is hopeful of securing an early and complete confession from him.

The West home at 11 St. Louis, where the burglary was committed, was entered by burglars last Wednesday night and several hundred dollars' worth of clothing, jewelry and silverware was carried away in trunks in a wagon.

People who saw the wagon at the door thought it was an expressman calling for boxes for shipment, and it was not until the police found the stolen goods were found in the trunk.

No trace of the stolen goods was found until Muzzer's arrest. In the bundle which directed the suspects to the West home was an imported French dress of white silk, valued at $100, a pair of children, and six pearl-handled fork knives and several carving knives and forks.

TOOK STRYCHNINE
AT GRAND HOTEL

Stranger Registers, Goes to His Room and Is Found Half an Hour Later in Great agony.

A man giving the name of Victor Fassel of Memphis, Tenn., took strychnine at noon Tuesday in a room at the Grand Hotel, 10 North Sixth street, which he had rented half an hour before.

Ernest Orlor, the hotel clerk, heard groans from the man's room and tried to open the door. It was locked on the inside and he gained an entrance by bursting the lock.

Fassel was lying on the bed still conscious. A small box labeled strychnine lay near him. The clerk summoned an ambulance and had him taken to the City Hospital.

Fassel had no baggage when he went to the Grand Hotel, but he told the clerk he had some at the St. James. He said he came recently from Germany and had been engaged in the lumber business in Memphis.

In the pocket of his coat there were three letters wrapped in a paper. Fassel gave them to a policeman saying "Mail them to me."

The letters are addressed to Joseph Walden, 214 North street, Memphis, Tenn.; Estel Wardell, 121 Gayoso street, Memphis, Tenn.; and a letter to a woman in St. Louis, addressed to a town in the state of Oregon. The name of the town is not legible.

Fassel had been staying at the St. James Hotel for several days, according to the clerk, and apparently was in easy circumstances. He was about 30 years old and was fairly dressed.

Other Cities.

St. Louis, Aug. 18.—The St. Louis police are looking for a man who was seen in the city last night. He is described as being about 30 years old and was fairly dressed.

"RUBE" WANTS TO MEET WEE WILLIE

Philadelphia's Big and Eccentric Pitcher Is Not Satisfied With One Defeat.

Pitcher "Rube" Waddell and his management don't think they had a fair chance in Sunday's game and are very, very, willing to try over the battle.

Mr. Cornelius McGillicuddy, who directs the fortunes of the Athletics, yesterday announced that he would work the big fellow this afternoon if McAleer would put in Sudhoff.

McAleer is not anxious to try out his star man in too many engagements, for Willie needs rest. Hence he said nothing to the McGillicuddy challenge.

Yesterday's contest of Sportsman's Park ought to have been refereed by Philadelphia. There was no quality of victory about it. Rube pitched good baseball—as good as Plank, but in the first round he and Burkett fought what they owed the management and handed the game to the enemy.

CARDINALS AGAIN MEET SUPERBAS

Inability at the Bat Costs Donovan's Weaklings a Doubleheader at Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Patsy Donovan's Cardinals, after dropping a doubleheader here Monday, will conclude their local engagement this afternoon.

Following the Brooklyn dates the Cardinals go to Philadelphia for a series.

Yesterday's doubleheader victory was no fault of Pitcher William Reddy, who was on duty in the second game for the home club. Reddy was hit safely ten times, whereas Murphy was touched up for raps on but half a dozen occasions.

LITTLE BETTING ON CUP RACES

Reds Get New Fielder.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18.—Kerwin, the phenomenal young leader of the Louisville baseball club, has been purchased by the Cincinnati club. The price is not announced.

Odds is much bet as are recorded to the present time. The Louisville team is a great crowd will witness the initial contest Thursday.

Under the regulations each vessel is permitted to carry three men to each foot of racing length. It is not probable that either vessel will be manned to the limit. At the present time both vessels have been worked by 35 men.

Both vessels will be measured officially Wednesday and the announcements made as to crews and time allowance.

HUGH MCGOWAN LOOKS THE BEST

Rainland Is Giving Him Twenty Pounds in the Six-Furlong Handicap.

BY R. D. WALSH.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
KINLOCH RACETRACK, Aug. 18.—The feature of today's racing at Kinloch will be the fourth on the program. It is a handicap for 2-year-olds at six furlongs. Rainland will probably be favorite. Last Friday he beat all these horses easily, carrying 115 pounds, and came from behind. Today he is given 118 pounds. This is giving away a lot of weight, and if he can win with this impost he will be given big weight for the balance of the meeting. He is a big, strong colt and can handle weight easily, but there is a limit to his ability, and it is really expecting too much of him to give 20 pounds and a beating to Hugh McGowan. Still he gave Hugh 15 pounds Friday last and defeated him quite handily.

If Ben Adkins can go this distance (and he has successfully gone five and one-half furlongs) he should be a formidable opponent here.

Old Stone started out well this spring, but he seems to be of no present account. In my opinion he will not finish in the money.

It is an indifferent sort of performer and does not seem to have any chance against this company.

All things considered, I like Hugh McGowan to win, with Ben Adkins second and Rainland third.

The fifth race is a purse affair at seven and one-half furlongs. This looks a good thing for Nearest, although she will not like the weight so very well. Still she is in good form now and can handle a few extra pounds without trouble. Alfio looks to me to have the best chance for second place, and it is pretty certain that Mallory will not be worse than third.

Hotentot and Benson Caldwell are no good and have little chance to be in the money.

The sixth race will probably be the best contest of the day. It has an excellent field of eight horses engaged in it at a popular distance. It is one of the hardest one of the day to diagnose, because all the candidates have a splendid chance to win. Hiles may go the distance, but he should like it and I think he will surrender in the last sixteenth.

Peers seem to be outclassed in this company and the distance is a little too short for him. Stand Pat seems to me to be the best of this bunch, and it looks a very even thing between these three. Irish Jewell won a fine race with 117 pounds, and he is in here if he should have the mount he will be worth supporting.

DOHERTY MAY BE TENNIS CHAMPION

English Player Favorite for the Tournament Opened Tuesday at Newport Courts.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 18.—The annual tennis championships of the United States were started today at the Casino. Play opened at 10:30 a. m. when the first match in the doubles was begun.

Ward and Ware, winners of the eastern championship, met Collins and Waldner, the western title holders.

The entry list to the singles is wanting the names of several brilliant players. The Wrenns and Malcolm Whitman are among those not in the contest this season. The Doherty have made unfortunate draws for matches and will meet each other about the fifth round. The only American of consequence to meet either prior to semi-finals will be Krellish Collins, western champion, the American Wright, Ward Clothier and others have all drawn together.

It is expected that the English player, H. L. Doherty, will reach the finals and probably win the trophy.

BRITISH WIN GOLF MATCH

American Team on Which Stuart Stickney Played Could Not Equal Englishmen at Chicago.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—In a match produced by the best golf ever played on the links of the city, the British team defeated the Americans here yesterday, score 8 to 3.

The American club was made up of the best talent in the West, including Western Champion Egan, National Amateur Champion Louis James, Chandler Egan, Stuart Stickney of St. Louis, and other players who made names for themselves at the Cleveland championship contest.

The feature game was between Norman F. Hunter the Oxonian, and Chandler Egan. The Englishman defeated Egan in 18 strokes for the course, 71, which is a new record for the course. This lowers Egan's 74 for the round. Egan himself played great golf and made the 18 holes in 76, but could not keep up to the standard of the enemy.

WOMAN BREAKS A RECORD

Mrs. Robert Hasselbach Rolls an Average of 173 2-7 at Ten Pins.

There is no Beauty that can stand the disfigurement of bad teeth. Take care of your teeth. Only one way—SOZODONT.

Mrs. Robert Hasselbach of 77 Carpenter place broke the women's record at ten pins at the Blue Ribbon bowling alleys Monday night. In seven games she rolled an average of 173 2-7 pins. Her total number of pins was 1213. Her record by games was: 170, 185, 184, 170, 180, 185, 203. Mrs. Hasselbach has bowled for two years and is considered one of the best women bowlers in St. Louis. She has won many beautiful trophies.

HEAD SOLID SORE

Awful Suffering of Baby and Sleepless Nights of Mother.

Another Wonderful Cure by Cuticura.

"I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease Eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering and myself many sleepless nights."

"My baby was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of, but nothing seemed to help; in fact, it grew worse. Her hair fell out where the sore was, and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me to get Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment right away."

"To please him I did so, and to my surprise by their use the sore began to heal over, the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore, and it is over eight months and no sign of it returning."

Mrs. Wm. Ryer, Elk River, Minn.

CURE PERMANENT

Mrs. Ryer writes Feb. 25, 1903, Six Years Later, That Cure is Permanent.

"Your letter of the 19th inst. received asking in regard to the cure of my baby some six years ago. Well, the disease has never returned to her head which at that time was a solid sore on top and down the back. Once or twice since then a patch has come over her head near the wrist but it finally disappeared after proper treatment with Cuticura."

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Remedies, 28¢ (the form of Cuticura Cream Pills, 25¢ per box) of 50¢ (the form of Cuticura Soap, 25¢ per box) of 50¢ (the form of Cuticura Ointment, 25¢ per box). Cuticura is sold in all drug stores, or by mail from J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

EYE SIGHT SAVED BY FREE ICE FUND

"Unless ice can be kept on his head constantly he will go blind in three hours," said the physician. The man in question was ill. His wife was ill also. So was his mother. There was no money with which to buy ice.

But the visitor of the Free Ice and Sick Diet Circle of the King's Daughters was there. She gave the promise that meant hope for the man's eyesight. "He shall have the ice," she said. "I shall see that he has plenty of it. The Post-Dispatch Free Ice Fund will send what I ask."

"The ice was kept on the man's head for many hours."

When he has fully recovered his eyesight he will have reason to be grateful to the persons who made the Free Ice Fund possible—the readers of the Post-Dispatch and the good women of the Free Ice and Sick Diet Circle of the King's Daughters. The management of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice Fund has been in the hands of the Free Ice and Sick Diet Circle of the King's Daughters this season. The work has been most carefully done. The members of the society have investigated each case where an application was made for aid and determined whether the person applying was deserving of help.

Special attention has been given to sick persons, children and aged persons. Funds for the promotion of the work have not come in as rapidly this summer as in the preceding ones owing perhaps to the moderate weather. Nevertheless the women in charge of the work were unable to deprive persons of ice when they knew that want of ice meant misery and perhaps death.

Management Visits

Those Whom It Aids.

One of the members of the circle was appointed to make a house-to-house visitation of the persons receiving ice. She found many cases where not only ice but other necessities were wanted. She found many invalids who were constantly growing worse because they could not have proper food. She found children burning with fever caused by the close rooms in which they lived.

Besides doing the work of the Free Ice Fund she added to her labors that of carrying out the work of the circle. The expense of the provision of the ice was met by the circle, but the independent of money received for the distribution of free ice.

The work was originally planned to continue until October—the warmth of the early autumn days and fevers prevalent at that time making the need of ice during September as great a necessity as during July. Unless donations come in quickly it will be impossible to do this and many good persons will suffer.

AFTER WHEELMAN'S RECORD

Four Young St. Louisans Will Try to Make Trip From This City to Chicago in Less Than 30 Days.

Whatever the record for wheelmen between St. Louis and Chicago may be, four young wheelmen are out to endeavor to break it and at the same time spend an enjoyable vacation on the road between this and the Windy City.

For the past three months, Albert Voigt, Timothy Schumann, Robert Orr and Patrick Maher have been training for this 40-mile ride, which they expect to cover in less than three days, riding at the rate of 140 miles a day. They have demonstrated their skill on the road by riding over bad roads in their weekly tours about St. Louis County. They intend to make start on their long distance tour Thursday at 4 a. m.

Their immediate object is to break the motorcycle record of Harry Geer who recently covered the distance in 23 hours. It is said that the St. Louis quartet will limit their riding time to 10 hours a day.

WANTS HUSBAND PUNISHED.

St. Louis Woman Finds Spouse After Hunting for Him a Year.

An Evansville, Ind., court will render a decision Tuesday upon the charges made by Mrs. Henry E. Stern of this Franklin avenue, St. Louis, against her husband, Mr. Stern, who she claims deserted her. Mrs. Stern charges that her husband deserted her, and that he has been representing her as a woman who formerly lived at 1908 Rutger street, as his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Stern at one time conducted a photographic gallery, but later, after Mr. Stern's mother informed Mrs. Stern of his whereabouts.

DR. DUFF'S QUICK, CERTAIN AND SAFE CURE FOR VARICOCELE

The only known method that cures the disease at once without a surgical operation, loss of blood, the least bit of pain, and not interfering with occupation.

My treatment by Accupuncture checks the overflow of blood to the scrotal veins, and removes the stagnant blood that obstructs the circulation, so that the ganglionic nerves, the weakness of which causes Varicocele, are restored to strength, and normal circulation to the organs is resumed without a sign or symptom of Varicocele ever returning. I cure Varicocele with a single treatment that requires only a few minutes. All men having Varicocele who have treated for months without a cure are especially invited to call or write, and physicians and specialists will be made liberal allowance for sending me Varicocele patients that they have been unsuccessful in treating.

My price is high compared with what you can be treated for by unskilled specialists without a cure, but I render services that are worth a thousand times what I charge for a cure. To poor men who have spent their money doctoring without benefit, I will make a special low price, and accept small payments.

I treat and cure all such pelvic diseases as Piles, Rupture, Stricture, Hydrocele, Blood Poison, Nervous and Sexual Decline and diseases of the Kidneys and Prostate Gland. My methods of treating these diseases have proven so successful that I guarantee a permanent cure in every case, and to insure those who deal with me against loss, I have deposited $1000 in a trust company to secure my patient holding my contract and promise that I do not fulfill. CONSULTATION FREE AND INVITED. Full information and treatment will be given by mail in case you can not visit my office. Every man can take treatment because my charges are moderate and never any more than any one can conveniently pay. Do not treat elsewhere until you have investigated my methods and terms. Office hours: 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sunday, 9 to 1. Address or call on

The mob goes ahead before it is sure it is right.

It will be easy to smell out the garbage conditions.

The Excelsior Hauling Co. perhaps understands that Excelsior means the highest price for hauling.

So long as policemen wear uniforms and thieves do not there may be vacant apartments in the penitentiary.

In the past year Canada paid us $123,000,000, while we paid Canada $34,000,000. Uncle Mark Hanna will see in those figures another reason for pat standing.

SAFETY EQUIPMENT OF STREET CARS.

Mayor Wells signed the present fender bill December 18, 1901. So that about 20 months' time has been given the transit company to equip its cars with the new life-saving device it selected soon afterwards. And yet, as everyone in St. Louis knows, many of the cars on the crowded streets in the poorer districts are still equipped with the old and worthless fenders. The result is that the newspapers still have to make frequent reports of children or adults who are injured or killed because fenders have failed to work. The latest is the case of 8-year-old Harry Kadell, who was scalped by being rolled under a fender on Monday last.

The public and the board of public improvements have exercised extreme patience in demanding the enforcement of the fender law, because the company claimed that time was needed to obtain the equipment. But is not 20 months enough time?

If, instead of a life-saving apparatus, this equipment had been one for the purpose of making money, will anyone dare to say that it would not have been placed on every car long ago? In these days of strenuous fulfillment of contracts for machinery, is it not absurd to claim a period of 20 months is not long enough to equip the cars of one company with fenders? In that time, several skyscrapers have been built, several steel viaducts have been constructed by American firms in the heart of Africa. Gigantic machines have been erected, and other mechanical wonders performed.

All of these, however, were in the direct money-making line. Because the fenders are demanded by law for the purpose of saving life and may only indirectly save money for the company, is that any reason why the equipment should be delayed indefinitely?

Does the transit company intend to fully obey the law in regard to fenders and brakes, or is it playing with the public and the city authorities? Why does not the board of public improvements insist on the prompt enforcement of the life-saving equipment laws?

It is said that the captain of the American craft, Silver Spray, will report to Washington and that the true story will become known in a few days. It would, of course, be impossible for an American seaman to tell a wrong story. Is he not a countryman of George Washington? And who could believe the commander of a British revenue cutter, even though he had received moral training?

GARBAGE COLLECTION.

According to the report submitted to the board of health by the Excelsior Hauling Co., seventy wagons are employed daily in collecting garbage.

In response to questions the secretary of the company said that the thrice-a-week collection was not the result of an agreement. It was an arrangement or understanding.

All this is sheer foolery. It is not a question of words but of fact.

The ordinance requires the contractor to haul away garbage and dead animals once a day. By what authority was this ordinance set aside?

The fact is that the garbage is not hauled away even three times a week; and as for dead animals there seems to be no rule. If they are hauled away three times a month householders count themselves lucky.

The duty of the board of health is plain: enforce the ordinance.

There is no escape from this.

If the ordinance is imperfect it can be amended by the assembly but no executive officer has power to suspend or alter it.

The spectacle of municipal imbecility afforded by this garbage question would discredit a misgoverned Cuban city under the old Spanish regime. Let us have a little intelligence and energy in enforcing health regulations at least.

The fact that the recent saengerfest at St. Louis was a financial success, closing with a surplus while every former festival of the kind elsewhere had closed with a large deficit, is matter for congratulation. It proves that St. Louis' claim to be a musical center is borne out by the facts. The work done to insure this result will not be lost.

THE PANAMA CANAL TREATY.

The report that the Panama canal treaty is amended to death in the Colombian congress is probably true.

The responsibility for this defeat of a project cherished by every patriotic American must be divided between the politicians of the Colombian republic and the transcontinental railway companies in the United States which have been opposed to anything which might mitigate their monopoly.

But an isthmian canal is inevitable. All the politicians and all the intriguing monopolists in the world combined cannot do more than cause vexatious delays.

The people of the United States are practically unanimous on this subject and will support any reasonable plan which promises a speedy construction of the waterway.

Philanthropist Nathan Strauss will donate a milk pasteurizing plant to St. Louis, to provide pure milk for the children of the crowded districts. Mr. Strauss could do nothing better to keep his memory green. The blessings of little children are worth more than costly stone monuments.

THE MISSOURI IDEA.

There is robust, healthy state pride in Mr. Folk's Palmyra address.

covered and checked the better for the state." He might be accused of arguing a self-evident proposition, were it not for the grotesque attempts to belittle the war against corruption. Prosecution of offenders will not be rebuked by Missourians. Good government can be preserved only by the reasonable expropriation of evil wherever it makes its appearance. This is the Missouri idea.

In the Pulitzer college of journalism young men can now obtain the best training for the practice of the most important profession. Upon the press depends all that is best in civilization and it is gratifying that a great university will now direct the training of men who aspire to this high public service.

THE COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM.

The hearty satisfaction expressed by so many eminent men over the establishment of the College of Journalism by Mr. Joseph Pulitzer goes to prove that such an institution answers to a very pressing need of the time.

Mr. Carl Schurz, himself a journalist of the best type, says: "In journalism we need a professional conscience as well as a professional mind."

The college of journalism, he points out, will impart technical knowledge of the profession, "but training in the moral principles involved in public affairs, a moral development founded on knowledge, broad depth, and that will make a journalist mentally disdainful as well as morally antagonistic to wrong-doing—this is vital."

The announcement of this school is "a national event," and Mr. Schurz thinks journalism should now take its place among the learned professions.

It is, indeed, a national event. The newspaper is the people's university; upon its moral character and intellectual grasp depend the greater issues of humanity, and in this school men will not only be taught the technical details of newspaper work, but will be informed with a professional ethic proper to the most important modern calling.

We are greatly in need of pig-iron, and have imported 88,000,000 pounds in the past year, but the British Malayan colonies have just put a big export duty on the Malayan tin and our supply of that metal may be shut off. As the Malaysians produce more than half the tin of commerce, the outlook for American consumers of tin is not promising.

Uncle Samuel is being arrested and fined in Washington for violating the smoke ordinance. This is hard on Uncle Samuel. So long as Providence keeps the hard-coal deposits in the hands of such agents as Bro. Baer, is not our Uncle forced to use the bituminous article?

We are not so bad when Arnold White writes to the Post-Dispatch that the lash of public opinion is freely applied to prominent wrongdoers in the United States who, on the other side of the Atlantic, would escape all criticism.

If all senatorial elections were to be investigated there would be a whole lot of interesting reading in addition to what is furnished at legislative sessions. United States senators should be elected by the people.

The 200 per cent increase of flour exports from the United States to China is cheering. What a boom our flour might have if Mr. McKinley's reciprocity ideas were carried out!

We are abandoning in the Philippines "some posts which were deemed important to garrison a year ago." Why hold anything that we have to "garrison"?

With 70 per cent of the entire construction of the greatest Exposition now complete, the outlook for a prompt opening is certainly promising.

As Uncle Mark Hanna is conversant with all the campaign tricks, how can he be spared from the head of the national committee?

The man who can transmute silver into gold has turned up again. What a pity these wonder workers never do what they can.

With a meddlesome grandjury putting its nose into the garbage contract we may hope for results.

The latest bad news from the Philippines comes in head-hunter tales.

POST-DISPATCH SNAP-SHOTS.

In passing Grand and Franklin don't borrow flowers from the barrow.

Every man in the United States wants emergency money—for himself.

Why should not every one speak frequently of the weather? All human existence depends upon the weather.

It is said of Sarto that before he became Pope he was merry and liked a good joke. He probably avoided the comic papers.

What is fame? In a dispatch from Mexico the name of Hernandez Cortez twice appears as "Herman" Cortez and once as "Herman."

An Indiana doctor saved three persons from drowning. It is easy for a doctor to save people if he doesn't try to do it with a prescription.

In France there are people who declare the telephone to be the work of the devil. Anyhow, it has made many people in various countries swear.

The St. Louis earthquake of Sunday morning was so severe that thousands heard nothing about it until Monday morning. Then, of course, they felt shocked.

The mammoth recently taken out of the ice in Russia has hair eight to twenty inches long and is very fat. The northern climate could not have been very tropical when this beast was alive.

The Ohio preacher who has been asked by his congregation to resign because he did not want them to drink beer, has found that there is something more than a thirst for gospel truth in the Buckeye state.

Now that there is a machine that does the work of the sculptor, we may soon have statues and busts galore. What will the old Greek statuary amount to when our statue machines get fully to work?

The little bit of money which the highwaymen have been getting from the citizens they have held up will do much to discourage highway robbery. He who carries only his car fare does more to dishearten the footpad than all the penal laws.

C. R.—There is not a government reward for any defective coin "allowed to pass out of the mint," and we know of no coin collector who is offering a premium for it. The jokers are always coming out with stories for the credulous.

L. V. BROWN—There are government land offices at Springfield, Iron and Booneville. Vacant public land in Missouri, 218,194 acres. Homestead entries are limited to 160 acres, cash purchase to 320 acres. Civil war soldiers are allowed to deduct time of army service, but must live on homestead land one year. Twenty-one counties in Iron district, 12 in Springfield district and 14 in Booneville district have government land.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

INDORSED BY PUBLIC MEN

Columbia University's Official Announcement That the School Is to Be Established and Maintained on a Large Scale Received With Expressions of Pleasure—Veteran Carl Schurz Says Journalism Should Now Take Its Place Among the Learned Professions.

The official announcement that Mr. Joseph Pulitzer is to provide $2,000,000 to found a school of journalism at Columbia University, New York, has been widely and favorably commented upon by the newspapers, educators and public men of the United States and in Great Britain.

President Nicholas Murray Butler's statement to the public made it clear that the new Columbia School of Journalism, like the Columbia School of Medicine, the Columbia Law School and the Columbia School of Mines, is to be national in scope, and is to provide thorough technical and professional education for the profession of journalism.

Of the idea Carl Schurz says: "This announcement of a university school of journalism is in a very high sense a national event. I see no reason why journalism should not now take its place among the learned professions. All it needs are professional standards."

Editor Henry Watterson says: "A systematic education in journalism is as essential and will produce as good results at least as systematic education in other industries, and, in this character, Mr. Pulitzer's munificence, which is splendid, indeed, must be universally commended by all newspaper workers."

From a great number of statements and letters published on the subject the following are taken:

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

A GREAT CONCEPTION.

BOLTON LANDING, Lake George, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Carl Schurz, president of the new department of journalism at Columbia University is sweeping and enthusiastic.

Sitting on the veranda of his cottage overlooking the green-shored, sparkling lake, he read the announcement of the establishment of the new professional school with many expressions of pleasure. As one of the oldest and foremost journalists in America, and one of the representative thinkers of the nation, Mr. Schurz's carefully uttered opinions are sure to command general attention among thoughtful men everywhere. He entered journalism when 15 years old, and he is now 74.

Will Rank High in Public Institutions.

"The School of Journalism which Mr. Pulitzer has founded in Columbia University is a great conception. It deals with the elements of a profession which more than any other affects our national life. A school of journalism that will develop not only technical but also intellectual standards, will rank among the most important and useful of the nation's educational institutions. It is a school of the future, and if it is properly conducted, and the names of the advisory committee seem to indicate as well, it will be a great credit to the nation."

"In journalism we need a professional conscience as well as a professional mind. We need the dignity, independence and moral pride which are born of the conviction that the journalist is a public servant. The time has indeed come when the vast and growing power of journalism should be ordered and controlled by the highest and noblest of the nation's intellectual forces. It should be guarded and inspired by definite professional ethics, the violation of which should cost the offender his standing."

"The professional journalist should bring to his work a thorough, systematic and sound knowledge of certain principles and facts with which he will have to deal. I am glad to see, for instance, that among the things proposed for this new department of Columbia University is political and economic science. It is important, of course, that students should acquire technical knowledge of the administrative side of journalism, of business and mechanical matters and of report writing. But training in the moral principles involved in public affairs, a moral development founded on knowledge, broad and deep, that will make a journalist a public servant, is the most important and useful of the nation's educational institutions. It is a school of the future, and if it is properly conducted, and the names of the advisory committee seem to indicate as well, it will be a great credit to the nation."

JUST A MINUTE

WITH THE POST-DISPATCH POET & PHILOSOPHER

WILLIE SUDHOFF.

I must sing a little ditty of a little bit of me all the time. For der kleiner Willie Sudhoff is the finest of his clan. You may talk about the others who can deftly twirl a ball. But with kleiner Willie Sudhoff they are in it not at all.

You can pick up any paper anywhere in all the land. And der kleiner Willie Sudhoff you will always see on hand. He is just the stuff exactly, and we like his easy style. And when he sings, singing praises all the while.

Oh, der kleiner Willie Sudhoff is a peach with all his fuss. For there's life and sweet enjoyment in whatever Willie does! Other pitchers may be able to delight us when we're down, but there's nothing doing, ever, until Willie comes to town.

Oh, we used to think that Willie was a common sort of ditty. That he was a second-rater, an indifferent sort of "ditty." But he is the only pebble on the baseball beach today. And there is no other like him in the pen-nant-hunting fray.

He is just a little German with a bunch of yellow locks. But he's all the fine limburger when he gets inside the box. If it wasn't for kleiner Willie, where, oh, where would this town be. In the battle for the pennant of the baseball family?

Concerning Success.

Mr. James J. Jeffries is looking for another fight. He is a winner. He has never been defeated. He is always right on hand with the groceries and always able to deliver the goods. He has the moral support of himself, which is more than half the battle in any case. He knows what he is doing, and he has done it before. He knows in advance that he is the master of the situation, because he has been the master of it before, and because he is certain in his own heart and mind that he has not deteriorated in the meantime. He is a winner morally as well as physically, and he knows it in advance. He cannot lose and he is certain of it. He is a 1 to 3 shot in the go-off because he has that sublime confidence in himself that inspires confidence in others. He is a winner perforce. He cannot lose if human conditions are anywhere near equal. Conditions are all in his favor. The winner is always a winner. Prosperity brings prestige, and prestige brings success. The loser is always a loser. He is hoodooed in advance. The winner is always "it." The loser is a d. e.

One Was Enough.

Three rings, we know, has Saturn; They circumscribe his orbit. But one ring, we are certain, Was a plenty for Jim Corbett.

A whole week has gone by and no state official has resigned, nor has anybody confessed to having accepted a bribe. Something must be wrong.

An earthquake visited St. Louis Sunday morning, but we have had no more shocks within the last year that we didn't notice it.

A newspaper says that a fisherman rescued a despondent citizen from the water. Maybe the poor fellow hadn't gotten a bite all day.

The St. Louis baseball teams must believe in reciprocity. Every time the Browns win two games the Cardinals lose two.

How can we account for this? Another Sunday has passed and the usual hee-can murder did not take place.

I think it would be a good idea if they were to have the streets illuminated during the World's Fair of 1904, the same as we had in the year of 1893, the time of the Chicago World's Fair. I think it was a grand sight.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Illuminate During World's Fair.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I think it would be a good idea if they were to have the streets illuminated during the World's Fair of 1904, the same as we had in the year of 1893, the time of the Chicago World's Fair. I think it was a grand sight.

An Answer to a Widow.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Under no circumstances should a woman marry a man younger than herself. Neither should she marry a man more than five years her senior, but three years her senior is the proper age. Because a woman marries three years younger than a man, as a rule, this allows for both to marry at the same stage of maturity.

It is quite a common belief that unless a man marries a woman ten years his junior in a few years his wife will look too old for him. The fact is based upon the fact that most married women break down and look old in a very short time, but there is no good reason why it should be so. It is contrary to nature, and whenever a result is contrary to nature the cause which produces it is a violation of nature's laws, and the violation of nature's laws will result in the premature decay of the body.

Quickly I chase the man behind the bar into the ice-box where cold bottles are; I bust into the cash register and get—Six pennies and a three-for-five cigar!

Night after night this program I repeat. And do not even own my bread and butter! 'Til I have to go to the open street or take to begging on the open street.

of our beautiful American women, is found mainly in improper marriages, unhygienic habits and the worst ignorance of both husband and wife in all that pertains to proper marriage. And this one, I am sure, would be an improper marriage, which by past experience of others they would follow the same footsteps and separate in a short period. AMATEUR. St. Louis.

Music at Tower Grove Park.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: It had not occurred to me to break into your People's Column until a moment ago and I just thought I would take up this criticism of the band that plays Sunday afternoon at Tower Grove Park. I am not acquainted with the bandmaster or any of his troops, but believe the music is duly appreciated by people who know music when they hear it. Doubtless the criticism comes from some of the thoughtless ones who continually talk with each other and prevent those who do appreciate the music hearing it. If it is a man, it probably adds to this affront that of smoking a cheap cigar and allowing the smoke to blow in the faces of those who either do not smoke at all or, if they do, smoke something better than a "two-fer." St. Louis. MODERATOR.

Reckless Conductors.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: In attempting to board a westbound Pape boulevard car at the intersection of Hamilton avenue and Delmar boulevard Miss Ruth B. Wright was thrown to the ground and seriously injured at 8:40 last night.

The car started just as Miss Wright had set her foot on the step, but she continued to hold to the handrail and was dragged about 20 feet.

A MOMENT'S MERRIMENT

By O. B. Joyful.

There's a lot of satisfaction in cutting down a chump. Such a meritorious action. Fairly sets the heart a-jump. Oh, it always deeply thrills you. For a minute almost kills you. If, before his manner chills you. You can land upon a chump With a thump or a bump.

Tell me not in mournful numbers That life is but a dream; While a chump the ground encumbers There's a failing to redeem. We're a lot for which to answer, And there is no sort of man, sir, From Beesieba to Dan, sir, Who with pleasure wouldn't scream, Could he land upon a chump With a thump or a bump.

"This thing is getting serious," said the Fool Killer to himself as he shouldered his club Tuesday morning. "I haven't killed a chump in three days."

"I am like the widow in one of George M. Cohan's plays. She always felt nervous unless she got married three or four times a year, and I always feel that way unless I kill off a chump every day or two."

"This morning I guess I had better (or should I say 'I would better') go after the Old Story Chump. He is one of the worst in the business, and it is a shame that I haven't done things to him long before this."

"He is the fellow who is always being reminded of something. Everything he sees or hears reminds him of something, and it invariably happens that whatever he is reminded of is as old as the hills."

"You get off some remark that is really bright enough to print—some momentary scintillation from your mammoth brain which is struck out by the hammer of circumstance and flashes out like a meteor on a dark night, and immediately the Old Story Chump says to you:

"Now, that reminds me of a story I once heard. An awful funny thing. Don't know whether you ever heard it or not."

"Thereupon he proceeds to outline it to you, to ascertain whether or not you have ever heard it before or not, and it takes him five minutes to give you an idea of what the story is. Then, when you like a gentleman in order to spare his feelings, and tell him that you never heard the story in your life, although it was an old tale with you in the year that Garfield was elected president, he proceeds to relate it to you with a wealth of tiresome detail, and you force a smile, at the same time secretly wishing that you could kick him into the middle of next week."

"The worst of it is that he has'n't sense enough to know that he is boring you to death."

"This is the chump I am going after today, and when I get him I will get him good."

It was just exactly one hour later when the Fool Killer returned home. His face wore a beatific smile and there was a patch of hair and a streak of gore on one side of his club.

This circumstantial evidence told more plainly than words what had happened, and those who saw him as he came meanly derided him as plain as writ that there was one chump less in the world because of his early morning activity.

JUST THE THING.

"I am told, madam," said the visitor, "that you have several marvellous daughters. I am the president of the College of Cookery, and I thought you—"

"My daughters do not need to learn cooking," interrupted Mrs. Rich. "They will be able to hire all the servants they need."

"Exactly, madam, but our special course will teach them how to keep a cook,"—Philadelphia Press.

PROPER ENOUGH.

"I don't see why the department of the Interior should have to do with the Indians."

"Simple enough. The government nowadays mostly has to care for the Interior of the Indian; it simply feeds him, you know,"—Philadelphia Press.

And many other aches to which women are peculiarly subject are generally the result of a diseased condition of the womanly organism. When this diseased condition is cured, headache, back-ache, headache, etc., are cured also.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. When these diseases are cured the aches they cause are also cured.

"I will drop you a few lines today to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss Annie Stephens of Belleville, Wood Co. West Va. "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and now I have no more back-ache, and no pain in my side any more. No beating-down pain any more. I think that there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine. I thank you very much for what you have done for me—your medicine has done me much good."

RANDOM SHOTS.

After all, the human heart finds its best shelter in human kind. Sometimes we crave love, either as a desirable blessing or an inevitable evil. When a woman makes an unhappy marriage she is apt to charge it to family coercion.

Do not talk too glibly about your own affairs; you may be pronounced a poor conversationalist, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Yes," said the intellectual man. "If I discover it I shall become rich."

HANDS OFF SCHOOL BOOKS.

A collector of old school books gives in Leslie's Monthly for September two of the favorite, old-fashioned receipts against the book-borrowing thief:

Steal not this book, for if you do Tom Harris will be after you.

This book was bought for good intent. Pray bring it home when it is lent.

MISSOURI ODD FACTS.

Jim Karnes, who claims to be the champion strong man of Jasper County, was knocked down and almost killed by a playful 6-months-old calf.

A Warrensburg young woman was sitting on the grass in the yard, reading, when, changing to look up, she beheld a mule looking at her. She jumped up and said, "Shoo, mule!" which frightened the animal so that he ran, thus giving her a chance to get to the house.

A Moberly hot tamale man has taken his whole family away for an all-summer visit, and the generous fellows who have patronized him "just to help him along," and who now, in consequence, have to stoik to their adding and counter-jumping operations, are wishing they had kept their money in their purse or put it in a rival tamale business.

Two young negroes, one tall and the other short, engaged in an altercation at Lexington, and the big one picked up a stone and "biffed" his adversary. Those around them yelled, "Put down the rock and fight fair!" "Ah, knows ma business," was all the tall negro said, as he held onto the stone. "Come on, put down the rock," urged the crowd. "Ah knows ma business," calmly returned the negro. At length, after much urging, he did drop the rock, and instantly the smaller negro whipped out a razor and started for him. The big negro turned and the two sped down the street. At this juncture an old negro, who had been an interested spectator, hobbled to the middle of the street and gazed after the two. As they disappeared around the corner he returned to his seat and said: "Ah reckon that nigger did know his business, too."

UNCLE SAM LONG ON APPLES.

Crop of 1933 Generous and of Excellent Quality Average.

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—A report on the world's apple crop of 1933 has just been issued by the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

It shows Great Britain short of all fruits, notably apples. Europe is generally short of apples, but with a heavy crop of Valencia oranges and Almeria grapes. New England, in the aggregate, will have a generous crop, Maine's almost equaling that of last year. New York state reports plenty of apples, the middle west only fair; the far west very heavy, Virginia and West Virginia a very large crop and Nova Scotia exceptionally heavy. Canada also promises quite a heavy yield. The quality average is excellent, excepting in some sections.

Harry Rams Decatur During Demonstration of Difficult Naval Feat in Long Island Sound—Both Vessels Damaged.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT
WITNESSES MANEUVERS.

Test to Show How Torpedo Boats Can Bore Into Enemy's Fleet With Practical Impunity — Destroyer

Morris Crippled.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 13.—A flying wedge of torpedo boat destroyers, going at 20 knots an hour, crashed together in front of President Roosevelt's yacht.

The destroyer Decatur narrowly missed the flower in Long Island sound yesterday afternoon and the grand finale of the great review ended in disaster. The destroyer Decatur had one side battered in, her hulls were raked off and she received other injuries, while the destroyer Barry was damaged.

the snags by having an accident immediately before. The Chauncey had just dropped off the wedge and was limping along toward Oyster Bay when the DeCatur and Barry came together.

her husband, the President's wife, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Sir Thomas Lipton, Admiral Dewey, Rear Admiral Taylor, Gen. Chaffee, Vice-Commodore Sharrman of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club and other notables were gathered on the bridge of the yacht watching the destruction.

To add to the excitement, it was believed that President Roosevelt's son Kermit was on the Decatur. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt knew, however, that their boy was on the Lawrence. When the black mass of vessels came together in collision the Decatur went over on her side, and everyone on the Mayflower thought she was sinking.

The Mayflower's boats were manned the instant the crash came, and the sailors were ready to go to the assistance of the disabled destroyers, but the Decatur was seen to right herself and so many other

The flying wedge was the biggest feature of a naval review full of magnificent spectacles. Five of the big destroyers made up the wedge. They were the Decatur, Bainbridge, Buxton, Dale and Chauncey, all unbridge, Barry, Dale and Chaudhry, all under the command of Lieut. L. C. Chaudhry, son of the former secretary of the navy. The ex-secretary was on the deck of the Dolphin when the accident occurred. The object of the maneuver was to demonstrate how the destroyers could form a diving wedge and go tearing into the center of an enemy's squadron with practical impunity on the part of the destroyers on the inside of the wedge, although the outside vessels would almost surely be shot to pieces. The wedge is designed to protect the inside destroyers so that at least two of them would be got in close in enough to do deadly work on the enemy's ships.

Excursion Boats
Obstructed Course.

All the battleships, cruisers and other vessels of the squadron had passed by the Mayflower in review and were steaming away up the sound to Penobscot Bay before the flying wedge came up. The excursion boats were so thick about the Mayflower, and so obstructed the course that it was necessary for the destroyers to steam slowly. Several times the obstructing ships necessitated a disarrangement of the formation and the wedge was somewhat out of shape when it passed the

When the President's yacht had been left astern and the small boats were no longer in the way the flagships' division signalled for full speed. Then the wedge took on the aspect of some great factory. The 20 funnels of the destroyers were sending up

Two miles from the Mayflower the destroyers were signalled to turn and pass by the Mayflower again to give a more satisfactory demonstration. When half way back to the yacht the Chauncey's steering gear got out of order and a signal was wig-wagged to the Mayflower to that effect. The four destroyers came on full speed. When a mile from the Mayflower the destroyers were signalled to take the wedge formation. They were then so close together that only a few feet separated the hulls. The Barry and the Decatur ran out ahead to form the point and the Decatur swung square across the Barry's bow. The Barry rammed her sister vessel on the starboard quarter, striking where the plates are only an eighth of an inch thick. The Decatur went over on her port side and to the onlookers it seemed that she was going down. The engines on the other destroyers were stopped in an instant, and the boats were manned and lowered before

The destroyers came to a stop. Th. Decatur righted herself and a hasty investigation showed that there was no injury except a great dent in her plates about half way between her stern and amidship. The Barry had struck a glancing blow, or the Decatur would have gone down.

Admiral Dewey ordered Lieut. Candlar to proceed to the Brooklyn navy yard for repairs, after which the boat will rejoin the fleet to continue the summer maneuvers.

"I do not want men in the navy who are afraid of scraping the paint off their ships," said the President, in commenting on the accident.

The torpedo boat Morris was the fourth crippled of the black division of the squadron. The Morris steamed down from Newport, R. I., to take part, but in going into Cyster Bay, struck a floating log or other obstruction and was damaged. The boat made her way into the shallow waters of the bay and anchored. Her injuries were not serious.
